Cyber Shorts – are you truly protected from security threats?

Our LIVE*talk* Cyber Shorts presents four key short presentations from professionals involved in cyber and information security. Each five minute talk will deliver a key piece of advice around managing your risks on line and the digital security of you and your business. Join our four experts to hear these important sound bites that will make a crucial difference to the security and risk management of your business. Our Cyber shorts event will happen at 11:15 on both Wednesday 3rd and Thursday 4th October. Tickets for either event are available on our Eventbrite link

Sara Lewis

Sara has been driving communications and public relations campaigns for technology businesses for over fifteen years. From start-ups to global enterprises, she has worked with companies ranging from software development, supply chain and financial solutions to insurance, data centres and cyber security specialists.
